Laurie Anderson's film of short stories about nature, artifice and dreams. Located in a fictitious world of theatrical spaces, the stories unfold through music, gesture, text passages and the poetry of variously juxtaposed, evocative visual images. Both joy and loss are expressed in the film's dreamlike texts. The film's haunting music features vocals by singer/performer Antony, violins, bells, dog barks and melody as well as many of Laurie Anderson's signature electronic sounds.
