A totally unique, highly stylized, feature-length, dramatic-documentary hybrid starring Lewis Lapham, the renowned essayist and editor of Harper's Magazine, along with an all-star cast of public intellectuals, CEOs, politicians, folksingers, activists and celebrity personalities.

The style of the film is as unique as its format. Employing green screen, animation, montage, dreamscapes and full-fledged musical numbers, director John Kirby creates a new visual form that addresses issues of civic importance in a manner both accessible and irresistibly engaging to a broad audience.

Official selection:
Tribeca Film Festival (Special Mention), IDFA , AFI Theatre in Washington DC, Woodstock Film Festival, AFI Theatre (Special Screening - LA), U.S. Consulate in Paris (Special Screening), Two Rivers Film Festival, South African Film Festival
